

I'm opposed to cell phone use on airplanes, because as evidenced by cell phone use every where else (cars, public spaces, and so on), they're disruptive, and it's just plain annoying listening to people talk on them.

Air travel is already uncomfortable enough, please don't make it worse by lifting the ban on in flight cell phone use.